

Heaven knows I've been waiting patiently

For You to come back and rescue me

All my life I did not belong

I know that this is not my home

One day Lord You'll return for me

Until then by Your Spirit You have set me free

Everyday I look to the heavens for Your sign

I'm living by Your Word Lord I'm walking the line

Will You come back and rescue me

Will You come back You hold the key

Will You come back Lord on the clouds

Will You come back Lord blow Your trumpet Loud

There's a path Lord called the narrow way

I'll walk it faithfully I will not stray

The righteousness man shall walk by faith

And unto the humble you reveal Your grace

Those who endure until the end

And worship you from the heart and do not pretend

The same shall be saved forevermore

When You descend from heaven Lord there'll be an open door
