

I Long To Worship

Words and music by Nicole Oliver.

Verse 1

I long to worship Your Name in full knowledge of You
To look to Your glory transformed by the view
I long to know You in fullness as I have been known
To meet with my God face to face

I long to hear that last trumpet when we shall be changed
And in that brief twinkling the dead shall be raised
When You appear we'll be like You, see You as You are Swept up in Your glory and grace

Chorus

No more tears – He will wipe their eyes
No more pain
No more death – none will weep and mourn
The first things have all passed away

Verse 2

I long for all knees to bow down when all tongues declare
That Jesus is Lord, King of all, everywhere
I long for nations to gather, their homage to pay
For all eyes to look to the Lord

I long to dance at the feast of our Groom and His bride
To hear His voice reading the Lamb's book of life
I long to taste fruit that grows on the life-giving tree
When all saints receive their reward

Chorus

No more tears – He will wipe their eyes
No more pain
No more death – none will weep and mourn
The first things have all passed away

Bridge

A narrow road takes us to Heaven
Run the race to win
Fix your eyes upon the prize
Eternity with Christ, the King

Chorus

No more tears – He will wipe their eyes
No more pain
No more death – none will weep and mourn
The first things have all passed away
The first things have all passed away

The first things have all passed
Passed Away
